The Future of Old Hammondtown School

Mattapoisett voters will be asked to vote for the repair, remodeling and addition to Old Hammondtown Elementary School on October 3rd. The Mattapoisett Elementary School Building Needs Committee held a public forum to discuss the proposed plan to expand Old Hammondtown School.

First, committee members led a group of citizens on a tour of the school, showing them cramped storage rooms used as classrooms for students. Mrs. Debbie DeWalt, chairman of the committee, showed the residents the tiny nurse's office, barely able to hold three students at a time. Mrs. Cote, a special education teacher, said seven special education aides shared a room. "It gets noisy, crowded, and distracting," she said. Right next door to them is the teachers' lounge. "They certainly have every right to be boisterous during their lunch," she said.

Ms. Paula Roy, the music teacher, shares her room with the art teacher. "We've tried to arrange room for two things going on, both music and art classes. There's an overlap on Wednesdays. I take my music class to the cafeteria so the art teacher can have this room. It's harder for her to be mobile," she said. "It gets confusing, the music is loud, there's a computer room next door, it's a very tight schedule, we have really compacted days. It's definitely crowded, there's no doubt about it," she said. During a parents' open house, Ms. Roy said she heard students explaining to their parents they sit in two different seats for the classes. "That's where I sit for art and that's where I sit for music." The music teacher has no choice but to store a lot of her supplies in the trunk of her car. "She must keep a lot of things at home, she can't even bring her keyboard in," Ms. Roy explained.

The Chapter I individual classes and computer classes share a storage room with no windows and no ventilation. Chapter I is a supplemental reading and math tutoring program held during class time. Margaret DeMello, Chapter I special needs teacher, said it was a cramped situation. "With computers beeping it's difficult to concentrate. We are here at separate times, it makes scheduling a nightmare," she added. The computer teacher said she makes sure her students are whispering to each other.

Ms. Maureen McQuillian, the school's speech therapist, teaches out of a tiny janitor's closet, next door to the boys bathroom. "I don't know if you've ever heard a group of boys out in the hallway," she said. The gym teacher said it was difficult teaching programs because it's too dangerous to play certain sports in the compacted gym.

Duane Smith, a teacher at Old Hammondtown for 20 years said, "The proposed project is fantastic; the space is definitely needed, especially for Speech, LIFT and Chapter I. It is horrible and a shame how they are presently working out of a closet with no sunshine or fresh air."

The proposed plan was distributed in pamphlets to the residents at the forum. According to the pamphlet, The Mattapoisett Elementary School Building Needs Committee has deliberated since March examining the issues facing our schools such as overcrowded classrooms, building improvements, and the proposed consolidation of the Center and Old Hammondtown Schools.

"This committee has been continually sensitive to such issues as cost to Mattapoisett tax-payers as well as the future use of Center School. We have concluded that the sum of $1.2 million is needed to provide four additional full-sized classrooms, three smaller classrooms, and other necessary improvements. This committee also recommends that the Center School Building continue to house K-3rd grade for the foreseeable future. Overcrowded classrooms at Old Hammondtown School is an issue which must be addressed by the new construction. The three smaller classrooms are needed to provide new space for required school curriculum needs such as LIFT, Chapter I, and Speech. Other priority items include a handicap accessible restroom, mechanical, plumbing and electrical upgrades to meet existing building codes," according to the committee.

Mark Whalen, member of the School Building Needs Committee, explained how the class size has grown over the years. He said because of the baby boom in 1965, the enrollment drastically rose. "Thirty years after the baby boom , now the baby boomers are having children. In 1995, the levels of enrollment have subsided. The school was built in 1966, just in time. In 1976, the portables were added. Children were learning in halls and in the cafeteria. That was the response last time," Mr. Whalen said. The overcrowding in the 1970s was much worse. However, Mrs. DeWalt said with the new state mandate, especially the Education Reform Act, new programs have been added since the 1970s. In 1985 there were three classrooms for each grade. In 1995, there are four classrooms for each grade. Old Hammondtown has 14 rooms, but five are used for programs. According to Mr. Whalen, "Anything past nine classrooms is driving the school past capacity. Since 1991, we have been far beyond the capacity, it shows no sign of letting up," he added. The new plans include four new classrooms, and three smaller ones. The Committee has attempted to answer many questions residents could have before voting on October 3rd.

What will the expansion do?

It will provide four full-sized classrooms, three smaller classrooms and other necessary improvements at Old Hammondtown School. The three smaller classrooms will be for LIFT, Chapter I and Speech. The improvements included a handicap accessible restroom and mechanical plumbing and electrical upgrades to meet existing building codes.

Why is the project necessary?

Old Hammondtown School is currently overcrowded with many required programs being conducted in storage rooms and closets.

How much will the project cost?

The town will be authorized to spend up to $1,200,000 for the classrooms and improvements. This will increase the tax rate by $16 per $100,000 of assessed value for a 20 year level of debt service.

What about State Funding?

There is a backlog of requests which make it highly unlikely that we would obtain approval for state assistance. Because of this backlog, we have prioritized work which will address the major issues at an affordable level for the year. However, a request for reimbursement will still be submitted to the state funding agency.

When will the project take place?

It is anticipated that construction can begin by mid-Spring of 1996 and the space should be ready for occupancy at the start of the school year in September 1996.

What happens to Center School?

Center School stays as a school for the foreseeable future. The long term status for Center School and realistic alternative uses must be considered in the broader context of long range capital needs planning for the entire town. The new Mattapoisett

Capital Needs Committee should include this issue in its future analysis.

Were other options examined?

The committee examined 18 different options. These options ranged from constructing temporary classrooms to establishing one K-6 school at the Old Hammondtown site. In addition, we looked at improvements at both existing schools totaling $4,000,000.

Why aren't more improvements included in this package, such as a gym at Old Hammondtown School and auditorium at Center School?

The Committee felt that this package addressed the requirements necessary to meet the immediate needs of our school system. Additional expansion/ improvements would have cost the town too much at this time.

How does the expansion fit in with long range plans for our school system?

The proposed addition works well as phase I of K-6 one school concept at Old Hammondtown School or as simply additional needed space in our present two school arrangement.

The three Selectmen also support this plan. "The proposed addition is important to the school system of Mattapoisett. It is essential to dealing with the overcrowded situation and is the minimum project that has to be done immediately," according to Selectman Jack DeCosta.

"This is a much needed addition to Old Hammondtown School. It is something that will serve the community for years to come," said Chairman Paul Lambalot. All residents will be asked to come out on Tuesday, October 3rd to vote on Question I- To see if the town will vote to appropriate and raise by borrowing number of trees and walls that will have to be moved. The Selectmen will have these plans at the end of the month for residents to stop in and see. There was a large turn out of town residents concerned about North Streets condition. Statements were made about the preservation of this scenic roadway and the need for safety. After a lengthy discussion residents and Selectmen decided on some immediate steps that should be taken.

•Selectmen will ask the Police Department to greater enforce the speed limit, to bring down the average rate of speed.

•Laws for banning trucks will be looked into, in hopes that this will be a possibility.

•A yellow line will be painted down North Street, so at night each side of the road will be easier to distinguish.

•After the Selectmen receive the new road outline they will have properties on North Street staked out. This will allow these residents to make some personnel decisions prior to the proposed October Town Meeting on this issue.

At 8:30 the Selectmen met with the Board of Assessors. They proposed that the town continue to use a single tax rate. This means that residential and commercial property will have the same tax percentage. This was approved by the Selectmen.

by Chairman Winters and started with the signing of the treasury warrants, commitments, and the approval of the minutes of last week's meeting. The board also agreed to issue an alcoholic license to the VFW on September 24 for a barbecue.

The board met at 7:15 with Dennis Luttrell, chairman of the Marion Conservation Committee. He said that the committee is "still very busy, despite not having an agent." He said that one of their "pet projects," which is taking place at Holmes Brook, will be underway sometime in October. He continued, "I think we could better serve the public if we had an agent." The Board of Selectmen commented on the fact that there is an opening in the committee, with a fast approaching cut-off date, and one application has been received.

Correspondence included a memo from Executive Secretary Pickles about the improved telephone system that will come to the Town House next Wednesday. The system includes voice mail and an automated attendant. Said Chairman Winters, "Never let it be said that we lack technology." The memo stated that"if you dial 748-3500, you will go directly to the automated attendant." According to Executive Secretary Pickles, the callers "will have eight separate options." He added, "The major thing is people will not continue to get a busy signal. We are hopeful it will eliminate complaints of the phone just ringing and ringing during business hours."

Executive Secretary Pickles also submitted new fee schedules. They covered building permits, electrical permits, plumbing permit fees, and gas permit fees. The board requested a clarification of Other correspondence included a letter from Peg Brady, director of the Massachusetts Coastal Zone Management Regional Program which is being reorganized. The "Southeast and South Shore offices will be combined to form one new South Coastal Region...in Lakeville." installation of "a street light on the number 2 utility pole on Tucker Lane." ComElectric will review the situation to give their recommendation.

Paul Perry, distribution planner of ComElectric, wrote, "We have received temporary rights...for the installation of a transformer and service wire at the site of 871 Point Road Marion." An article about it will be submitted to be included in the next meeting warrant.

The Department of Environmental Protection sent a letter about an unlicensed seawall.

Other matters included releasing a lot in the Cross Neck development from covenant. This release will help cover the cost of pavement. The four remaining lots will very probably not be released.

Water meter repairs are being completed and lines on the roads will be painted this week. Albert Poe of 385 Wareham Street requested a sewer connection similar to Eden Landscape's, which the board granted. A change in the "stumps in dump" fee structure was also granted; contractors will have to buy a ticket before they dump.

With no other matters to come before the board, the meeting was adjourned at 7:50 pm.

Success Oriented Classroom

As Old Colony's Success Oriented Classroom (SOC), a team taught inclusion model, enters its third year of operation, we are pleased to announce the addition of a ninth grade SOC literature class. Based on the positive results from the ninth grade SOC English and Government classes, teachers involved in SOC felt a need to expand the program. During the summer, Ms. Despres and Special Needs teacher Mrs. Walker designed the curriculum and developed materials for implementation of the literature class this Fall. This model emphasizes teaching students "how to learn" rather than "what to learn". It is an alternative to traditional methods of demonstrating skills mastery. To obtain a pamphlet explaining Success Orientated Classrooms, contact Ms. Green at

"CAVEAT EMPTOR"? - NOT TODAY

If you buy an old overcoat in a used clothing store and the sales slip states "Sold As-Is", you've bought it moth holes and all, right? Well, maybe. This legal principle of "caveat emptor" (let the buyer beware) is dead or dying. We are living in an age of consumerism and it's hard to find a court that won't favor the buyer in a dispute. In fact, consumer groups and many government agencies are taking the posture that the seller must disclose everything.

If you have a problem in your home, don't mask it. A common example is the homeowner who spray paints a ceiling to cover water stains caused by a leaking roof. If you have a problem that you don't intend to correct, be candid about it. Sure, some people will be turned off by it, but the serious buyer will be understanding about a problem openly displayed. Usually, they will discount the price by far less than the cost of repair. . . and a whole lot less than a day in court would cost.

Call BRUCE today with any of your Real Estate questions or needs, we're here to help!! 758-6738.

Stone Street Strummers

The Stone Street Strummers, New England's best known banjo band, will appear on Saturday, September 30 from 7:00 pm-9:00 pm in the Mattapoisett Congregational Church Hall. The concert is sponsored by the church and is being presented as wholesome entertainment for families. Tickets are $4 each and children under the age of 10 will get in free.

Tickets will be available at the Mattapoisett Pharmacy, Lloyd's Market in Rochester, Canty Roofing, 145 Alden Road in Fairhaven. Tickets can also be obtained by calling the church at 758-2671 between 9:00 am-12:00 pm. They will also be available at the door on September 30th.

The Stone Street Strummers, founded in 1981, have performed more than 500 concerts. The performers are mainly retirees, many of them former music teachers or professional musicians who give concerts because of their love of music and to perpetuate the tradition of the banjo bands.

Happy, fun-time music awaits those who attend their concerts, and to those who enjoy banjo music the Strummers are a delight.

Elephant's Birthday

Come join the Buttonwood Park Zoological Society and the City of New Bedford in celebrating Emily's birthday. As a mature lady she wishes not to disclose her real age, but to say she is thirtish.

On Sunday, September 24 at Buttonwood Park, Emily (our resident elephant) and her friend Ruth invite her friends to attend this celebration. The zoo will be open from 10:00 am to 5:00 pm and family fun is guaranteed.

During the day there will be music, food, face painting, games for the children, train rides, pony rides, birthday cake and free crafts sponsored by the Buttonwood Park Project folks. Unless action is taken quickly by the city, this might be Emily's last birthday with us. For Herbs to Keep You Healthy...

Saw Palmetto Extract

Only $11.95 (Reg. $14.95)

By the age of 50 nearly half of the male population has some enlargement of the prostate gland. Saw palmetto, the fruit of a small Florida palm, can halt the progression of prostate disease and prevent the need for surgery. Saw palmetto is safe to eat and considerably less expensive than prescription medications. Prescription prostrate drugs have serious side effects including impotence. I consider saw palmetto an inexpensive and safe way to maintain prostate health. For younger men, this herb can help prevent prostate problems later on in life.

Charity Golf Tournament

The First Annual Charity Golf Tournament will be held on October 13, 1995 at the Kittansett Club in Marion. Designed by Frederick Hood in 1923 , the "links" style course, with a layout that depends on the natural features of the land and a constant wind, rather than artificial obstacles, provides a challenging game of golf. Chairperson of the event this year is Deborah Hynes of New Bedford. Other committee members are James Hughes, Patricia Janiak, Michael Rutkowski, Ronald LaStaiti and Eivind Strand. Proceeds from the tournament will provide YMCA programs to financially disadvantaged youths and families, including the YMCA's popular Camp Massasoit. Entry forms and sponsorship information are available by calling the YMCA at 997-0734. The event is limited to the first 120 paid golfers. Interested golfers are urged to sign

A PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN
O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God. Immaculate Virgin assist me in my necessity. O Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to secure me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin pray for us who have recourse to thee (3 times). Holy Mary, I place this cause in her hands (3 times). Say this prayer for three consecutive days and then you must publish; it will be granted to you. J.M.H.
